WHO CAN FOLLOW A PIGEON?
MR. GIFFORD'S BIG JOB
A NOBLE MAN
LEWIS SEES A "DANGER"

ELKHART, IND., Aug. 27.—On Long Island, far off to the east, a father, obeying orders, found a carrier pigeon at a certain point, fastened large bills to the bird and released it, hoping for the return of his kidnapped 16-year-old son.

That ingenious plan will interest the heads of our crime industry. A pigeon cannot talk, cannot walk home, with detectives following, cannot be followed through the air.

Imagine the gratification of some "unemployed" that might shoot the pigeon, and find the $500 bills attached.

The good bishop of olden days who dropped his jewel-studded gold cross overboard in the middle of the sea, and had it handed to him politely by a large crab as he stepped ashore, could not be more pleasantly surprised.

Mussolini announces a program of winter work for the idle that will cost $45,000,000 and employ 100,000 men.

A talk with Mussolini might interest President Hoover and Walter S. Gifford, in charge of our problem, more than many talks with the advisory committee of 60.

And this is said with the greatest respect for the ability of the president and Mr. Gifford and the committee. Mussolini personally has handled a nation's problem and its population, sweeping aside all other authority for years, and he possesses unique experience.

It should be understood that Mr. Gifford is chosen by the president to attend alone to the unemployment problem and that full authority, as far as the president can give it, is in Mr. Gifford's hands.

The committee of 60, comprising the ablest executives in America, is purely an advisory committee. There will be no divided authority. This is emphasized, because a paragraph recently published here might give a contrary impression.

The serious news is across the ocean in England, where the proud British have come to rely on the text: "I have been young, and now am old, yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread."

Think of the bank of England drained of its gold by the bank of France, and the empire that could borrow endless millions sterling under 2 per cent a year worried about a trifling deficit of $600,000,000 in the roaring 1920's this country would have led that amount to Liberia or Kamchatka.

The world admires MacDonald's spirit, giving up power and party for the sake of his country. No one who has seen and heard him is surprised. He is a noble man, in a sense higher than Debreit's definition.

If the labor party that he has created now rejects him, it will confirm the opinion of our "best American minds" that "any group of men with enough ability to run an empire would not be in a labor party, because they would not need to labor."

Senator Lewis of Illinois sees a danger. Russia is making non-aggressive pacts with Poland, France and other countries, getting

FOUR CONVICTS KILL PHYSICIAN IN FUTILE DASH

Marquette Break Foiled, Prisoners Take Their Own Lives

GUARD AND TRUSTY SUSTAIN WOUNDS

Guards Control; Threatened Riot Fails To Materialize

(By Associated Press)

MARQUETTE, MICH., Aug. 27.—The acting prison physician was slain and a guard and a trusty wounded in an attempted break at the state branch prison here today by four convicts, who then committed suicide when their plot was foiled.

Three of the convicts ended their lives after they had barricaded themselves in the industrial building of the prison, with a score of guards surrounding them. The fourth shot himself a half hour later when he fired at a guard in another wing of the prison and missed.

The slain doctor was A. W. Hornbogen. He was shot to death in the hospital near the main gate of the prison when three of the convicts attempted to make a break for freedom through the hospital exit.

The convicts were Tony Germano, Toledo, Ohio, sentenced to 35 to 50 years for wounding a Birmingham, Mich., patrolman; Leo Duver, Charles Rosbury, and Frank Hohler, Germano and Hohler were at one time charged with kidnapping the Laman-Andrews kidnapping gang of Detroit.

Warden James P. Corgan said that a general riot at first was feared but that his guards were able to maintain control of the situation. All of the guns obtained by the prisoners were in his custody, he said, and the prison was quiet.

Fred Burke, notorious bank robber and killer was committed several months ago for killing a St. Joseph, Mich., policeman when the officer attempted to question him concerning a minor traffic accident.

Torch Slayers' Jail
Last week the three torch slayers who killed and burned two young couples on a lonely country road near Ann Arbor, Mich., were placed in the institution. They are David Blackstone, a Negro, Fred Smith, a former convict, and Frank Oliver, a 19-year-old painter.

LINDYS VISIT JAPAN SHRINES

Dishes Rattle In Slight
Quake As They Eat
Breakfast

TOKYO, Aug. 27.—Given a day pretty much to themselves before being led into an ambitious round of functions in their honor, Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today got some rest, experienced a slight earthquake and visited Japan's two greatest shrines.

It was their second day in Tokyo and had been set aside to permit the couple to rest from the long flight from New York, which they completed yesterday.

The earthquake occurred while they were at breakfast in the home of Dr. R. B. Teusler, their residence during their stay here. A slight rattling of dishes on the table and the trembling of flowers in a vase appraised them of the shock, which did not interrupt their meal.

Accompanied by W. Cameron Forbes, American ambassador, they visited Meiji shrine, dedicated to the emperor of that name. It was under Meiji that Japan grew into a modern nation.

Later they visited Yasukuni shrine, which is dedicated to the spirits of soldiers and sailors who have died on the battlefields.

Colonel Lindbergh then made a trip to Kasumigaura naval base where he landed yesterday to inspect his plane. He explained that faulty spark plugs, which became fouled with oil, were responsible for the motor trouble in the Kurile Islands.

Will Face Mayor

Jacob Schemberhorn, Wilson st. is being held in city jail today, charged with attacking and beating his wife, Katherine Schemberhorn, and chasing her from their home Wednesday.

Schemberhorn was arrested this morning by Police Chief T. W. Thompson and Fireman Henry Jones on complaint of Mrs. Schemberhorn. He will be arraigned in Mayor J. M. Davidson's court this afternoon.

Mrs. Schemberhorn told police that her husband struck her several times then hit her in the face with a broom, opening a wide gash about her mouth and knocking out several teeth. After beating her she said her husband, who is 72, ejected her from their home.

Heiress To $51,000,000 Elopes

Mr. and Mrs. Whipple Van Ness Jones in their honeymoon suite in Chicago after choosing an elopement and justice of the peace instead of a church wedding, with orchids and soft music. They explained that they slipped away from their parents' summer homes at Oconomowoc, Wis., to Waukegan, Ill., where they were married. Mrs. Jones was Miss Mary Sue McCullough of St. Louis, heiress to the $51,000,000 fortune of the late John I. Beggs, utilities magnate. Mr. Jones, a 21-year-old Harvard student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Jones of Milwaukee. Blessings of their parents followed them.

ARREST OF GANG CHIEF ORDERED IN LYNCH CASE

Kidnaped Turfman Returns Home, In Own
Car, Unharmed

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—John J. "Jack" Lynch, wealthy turfman who was reported to be kidnaped last Thursday, returned to his home in Lake Geneva, Wis., early today, in his own car, unharmed.

Lynch said he was released last night by his captors on a street in Kankakee, Ill. After waiting five minutes at his captors' orders, he took off his blindfold and started his car toward Chicago where he picked up a friend and drove on to Lake Geneva.

Denies Ransom
He denied that any money had been paid for ransom, or that any had been promised. In fact, he exhibited surprise when he was told that $250,000 had been demanded for his release.

"Nothing was ever said to me during the time I was held," he said, "about my business, or any ransom. I cannot understand this."

Alphonse Capone, listed as "public enemy No. 1" by the Chicago crime commission is being sought in connection with the kidnaping of Lynch.

Patrick J. Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, telephoned the order for Capone's arrest from Lake Geneva, where he has been making an investigation of the Lynch case, saying the gang chief was suspected of a direct connection with negotiations for Lynch's release. Capone is reported to have agreed to pay off the abductors with $50,000 raised by the missing man's friends, and Roche said that if Capone refused to name the persons to whom the ransom was paid he could be prosecuted as an accessory.

Gang Chief Missing
A squad of police hurried to the hotel, where Capone maintains headquarters, last night, but were unable to find the gang chief. The possibility that Capone might be extradited to Wisconsin in connection with the case was discussed by Wisconsin officials.

The $50,000 reported raised by Lynch's friends was reported in police circles to represent a compromise with the abductors whose original demands, sent last week by telephone to Lynch's relatives, were for $250,000. They threatened to slay Lynch unless the money was paid.

Liquor Traffic

DAMASCUS, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Charles Matti, returned missionary, from China, will give the address at the annual Missionary service of Ohio yearly meeting of Gurney Friends at 7:30 tonight. This is always one of the outstanding services of the yearly meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Matti have been engaged as evangelists in the mission stations at Nanking and Luho, with eight out-stations near Luho and three at Nanking.

According to the Mattis, in Nanking, where the station stands in the heart of the city, new roads are continually being built, new buildings constructed and the value of land steadily increasing.

Christianity is becoming more widespread and greater revivals than any previously known are in progress, they say.

Ralph S. Coppel, of Alliance and Mrs. Louise Ellet, Beloit, R. D., were re-elected presiding and recording clerks, respectively, of the yearly meeting, it was announced Wednesday.

Coppel and Mrs. Ellet have held these offices in the yearly meeting for 12 years.

Byron Osborne of Cleveland is reading clerk; Rev. Paul B. Lindsley, announcing clerk, and Rev. Omar Jacobs, pastor of the East Goshen Friends church, is page.

Rev. Claude A. Roane, of Columbus, former pastor of the Alliance Friends church, will continue as superintendent of Ohio yearly meeting for another year, having been appointed last year for a two-year term.

Rev. Harlan Mosher, pastor of a church near Adrian, Mich., is in charge of the music at the services.

Dr. H. A. Kelsey of Muskingum college, Oxford, Presbyterian minister, discussed prohibition and the liquor traffic at the Wednesday afternoon session of the yearly meeting.

HARVEY NAMED FOR PRESIDENT

New "Liberty" Party ends Meet; Salem Man At Convention

Delegates who attended organization of W. H. (Coin) Harvey's new "Liberty" party at Monte Ne, Ark., were on their way home today after naming him the party's choice for president and formulating a platform embodying a moratorium of private debts.

Charles Bonsall, 91, Salem justice of the peace, advocate of the Harvey platform, was among the delegates attending the convention. Bonsall, believed to have been the oldest person present, made the 1400-mile trip from this city to Monte Ne unaccompanied.

While in Arkansas the Salem veteran will visit battlefields on which he fought during the Civil war.

The convention adjourned following selection of Harvey as presidential candidate and Andrae Nardskog of Los Angeles as his running mate.

Harvey, veteran of William Jennings Bryan's free silver campaigns, was ready to begin his fight as standard bearer of the new party.

The aged crusader for a monetary system revision, who furnished Bryan and the Democratic party with platform planks in the political battles of 35 years ago, is taking the field with a radical platform the convention he called and dominated.

Harvey, 80 years of age, accepted the nomination rather than see the convention adjourn without agreeing on a ticket.

DO-X THUNDERS OVER NEW YORK WITH 72 ABOARD

Lands Near Battery To End Strenuous, Ten-
Month Journey

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Conquering at last its ten months' battle against fire and wave and wind the gigantic flying boat DO-X arrived by a round-about course from Germany today with 72 persons aboard.

Its 12 great American engines thundering low above the narrows — the Atlantic steamer's gateway to New York — the DO-X at 11:15 (Salem time) scudded through gray skies past the statue of liberty, her arm flung high as though in proud salute.

The engines' roar mingled with screaming sirens of ferry boats and other harbor craft and with the cheers from thousands gathered at the battery.

The giant flying boat continued up the Hudson river to the new bridge which joins the Bronx to Jersey and then, swerving widely, returned downstream to effect a graceful descent upon the choppy waters between the battery and Bedloe's island. The DO-X, which left Norfolk, Va., at 8:14 this morning, was first sighted by the crowds that thronged the park at Manhattan's southern extremity at 11:15 a. m. and it alighted on the water at 11:34 a. m.

Launches immediately set out to bring passengers and crew ashore for the official reception.

Township School Program Planned

With school scheduled to open Tuesday, Sept. 8, residents of Fairfield township are discussing plans for relieving congested conditions prevalent in the centralized school of the district in past years.

A committee of 35 township residents held a meeting for the formulation of plans for the 1931-32 school term. A bond issue to provide of additions to the present structure of a new school or the erection of new buildings for the construction of the school.

Definite plans towards solution of the school problem will be formed at future meetings of township residents with the district's board of education.

Three new teachers will be in charge at the school during the coming term. Miss Lela Hawkins, graduate of Fairfield school, and Miss Williams of Jefferson county, have been appointed to teach in grade school classes with Miss Bookwalter, Mahoning county, being appointed high school teacher to succeed Miss Noble.

Cigaret Dealers Clamor for Stamps

LISBON, Aug. 27.—Although cigarette dealers are supposed to attach a two-cent excise stamp to each package of cigarettes sold on and after Sept. 1, County Treasurer Fred George is without a supply.

The treasurer's office was previously informed that the first supply for this county would be delivered Sept. 20.

First consignment, consisting of 12,800 stamps, have been delivered to John S. Edwards of the state tax commission, and he in turn has delivered the consignment to State Treasurer Harry S. Day. County treasurers are to receive their allotment from the office of the state treasurer.

"Fag" inspectors are now being appointed by the Tax Commission, but who will have charge of the district in which Columbiana county will be included is not known.

ADMITS THEFTS AT FIVE PLACES 'WORKED' ALONE

Kenneth Pelton To Be Arraigned In Mayor's Court Today

TRIO OF FILLING STATIONS ENTERED

Police Continue Probe of $1,300 Burglary At Mortgage Office

A signed confession reported by Police Chief T. W. Thompson to have been made by Kenneth Pelton, 17, of West Pershing st., today is believed by police authorities to have cleared up at least a portion of a series of burglaries occurring in Salem during the last three weeks.

Six specific burglaries were confessed by Pelton, Thompson said, while the youth is also believed by police to have been implicated in at least three others. He admitted entering and robbing three gasoline filling stations, a grain and feed supply store and the theft of a tire from an automobile parked on East Pershing st.

Thefts Listed
The thefts confessed by Pelton are listed by the police chief as follows:

Pennzoil Gasoline filling station, South Lincoln ave., Tuesday, August 25, theft of box of spark plugs, golf watch, cigarettes, candy and field glasses.

J. S. Douth service station, 460 West State st., burglarized twice, on Thursday, August 20, and Saturday, August 22. Flashlight and other tools, $6.86 in money taken.

Salona Supply company, 423 West Pershing st., on Friday, August 21, pencils, stationery, knife, tools.

Freedom gasoline station, 450 West Pershing, one battery, 15 gallons gasoline, automobile tools.

Theft of tire from automobile parked in rear of Hammell Motor Sales, 390 East Pershing, on Saturday, August 1.

Suspecting the youth following an extensive investigation, Police Chief Thompson and Patrolman Ralph Stoffer, Wednesday began a search for him. Late in the afternoon he was seen driving past city hall in his automobile.

Stoffer chased the youth in the city police car, catching him on Franklin st. He was brought to city hall, and lodged in jail for questioning. He admitted the series of burglaries named, but, according to Thompson, "forgot whether or not he was involved in others."

Worked Alone
Pelton refused to implicate any one else in the thefts, saying he worked alone in every burglary he admitted.

Police questioned him also in connection with burglaries at the Harris Garage and Storage company, West State st. The Harris company was robbed twice last week, on August 20 and 22, less than a dollar in money being taken by the thieves on each visit.

The youth denied having been involved in any way in the series of thefts occurring in the downtown business district in the past week.

Investigations are being made by Thompson, Stoffer and Patrolman William Reardon in the theft of jewels valued at $1,292 and $85.50 from the Salem Chattel Mortgage company, East State st., and the attempted safe robbery at The Church Budget Envelope company, South Ellsworth ave.

Reports made by Thompson of the crimes admitted by Pelton brought the number of burglaries occurring in Salem to 14 in two weeks.

Pelton will be given preliminary arraignment in Mayor John M. Davidson's court today. He will be charged with burglary and larceny.

Old Law Effective

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 27.—The Pringle act, requiring certificates of title on automobiles, passed by the last legislature and then repealed by the same body later, never went into effect in Ohio and therefore the old bill of sale law remains in effect, the state supreme court ruled today.

Dempsey Wins

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 27.—Everybody in Los Angeles can die of the heat but one lone man and he will stagger to the typetting machine and report "Temperature 96 degrees." Their thermometer is in a refrigerator.

Sixty shots were fired in Mexico's Congress while it was in session and they were only able to totally eliminate one member, and then people ask "What's the matter with Mexico?"

After reading what tonsils did for Estelle, Dempsey will get his divorce. Yours,

WHAT ELECTIONS COST

The Ohio Institute, a research organization located in Columbus,
presents statistics to show that Ohio is spending too much on its election machinery and produces a plan for saving some $600,000 a year.

The whole substance of the report including the cause of high expenditures, the solution and the difficulty involving such a change
is summarized in a single paragraph of the institute's report
which says:

"The basic cause of high election costs in Ohio is the control of the election administration by the two party organizations. Organization control has led to the use of the election system as a device for rewarding party workers from city leaders down to precinct workers. The feasibility and the success of non-partisan election administration has been demonstrated by several cities
in other parts of the country."

These research bureaus and investigating agencies, innumerable throughout the country, are generally correct in their finding of fact. Doubtless this report presents a true picture of the condition in Ohio as far as figures are concerned. Actual practice will show defects in some of the recommendations.

The biggest item of saving which
the institute recommends would be the elimination of salaried boards
of elections in all the counties.
These board members in 1930 received $238,626. In Columbiana county the members received a total of $4,152. The county commissioners received $5,465. The school board is not paid. The election board during the year possibly pays 10 to 14 full days at its official duties. County commissioners are in session several days a week.
The board of education meets formally twice a month but its members are unofficially on duty
at their offices and homes every day in the year as problems arise.

The institute is quite correct in reporting that these jobs are the reward of political leadership. The central committee of each party
makes the nominations and they are approved, practically without exception, by the secretary of state. It is traditional that the county chairman receive the place
if he wants it. Otherwise he usually dictates the appointment.

The institute recommends decrease in the number of full-time
employees of the election board,
finding that in the eight largest Ohio counties there is one full-time paid employee for each 8,269
votes while in a long list of non-Ohio cities there is one such worker for 16,721 voters.

In the 15 largest Ohio counties
expenditures for votes cast ranged from $62 for Belmont and $60 for Columbiana to Lucas county's $142
and Jefferson's high $147.

Ohio precincts are too small, the report says. The average vote per precinct in the eight Ohio cities in 1930 was 196 while in non-Ohio
cities using the paper ballot the average was 292.

The institute recommends greater
use of school houses and other public buildings for voting places, and advises registration without opening the polling places and reduction of the primary precinct workers from six to four, the latter step requiring legislation.

From the viewpoint of a statistician, all of the findings and recommendations are sound. Their practicability is an entirely different matter.

It doubtless would be a very fine
thing if political leaders were public spirited enough to save the state $238,626 by serving without salary
as members of the election boards
and cut another quarter of a million by decreasing the number of paid election workers.

Experience shows, however, that politicians do not handle things that way. Election jobs, to a certain extent, are the reward for partly loyalty and regularity. Even with these inducements any county
chairman or other political leader
will tell you that it's a hard enough job to maintain an interested organization. Without these elements to offer the faithful the chairman
would be as badly off as a fisherman without bait.

Election laws have been improved
and simplified in recent years.
Anyone, however who hopes that either political party will promote the abolishment of the present
election board system involving in each county the dismissal of the party "war horses" from the payroll shows an optimism which is not supported by the history of political policies.

BIRDMEN'S NEW TRICKS

America's greatest mechanical birds will flock to Cleveland Saturday for the opening of the national air races, aviation's foremost competitive aviation event in this country. In addition, ace fliers of several other countries will bring international greetings and show
the crowds some overseas ideas in flying.

It will be a great show and it will give visitors, who come from every corner of the country, a picture of the accomplishments which are being achieved in this practical business of flying.

The show will miss the presence of Colonel Lindbergh who dropped in unofficially last year and stole the center ring from the daring and efficient pilots entered in the events but it will have everything that the best airmen in the newest planes are able to provide.

It is not necessary to speak in this day of the safety and practicability of air travel. Great air lines which maintain cross country
schedules with railroad precision
and long distance tourists who hop
the ocean with reassuring regularity have convinced the doubters.

There are some surprises left,
however, and many of these will be demonstrated in Cleveland next week. Speed of 4 1-2 miles a minute
is predicted for some of the events.
There will be gyroplanes which hover almost motionless in the air,
speed ships which climb straight up into the clouds and others which dive faster than a falling shot.
There will be tricks which are a part of the everyday life of the aviator although birds with acrobatic flying experiences cannot perform them.

The world doesn't need to be convinced of the soundness and practical value of aviation but there is still plenty of thrill left in the recent achievements of the business
as they will be demonstrated at the Cleveland show.

What Others Say

A LESSON IN POLITICAL HISTORY

At the instance of Judge Sea-
bury, chief investigator of the legislative committee which is seeking to expose corruption in New York's municipal government, and with the support of the highest tribunal
of the state, Governor Roosevelt has called a special session of the legislature for the purpose of enacting
a law empowering the committee
to grant complete immunity to witnesses who testify in the public inquest. The committee had thought it possessed that power, but the court of appeals holds that the committee can grant immunity only in cases involving bribery of public officials. Witnesses who were asked questions concerning conspiracies to bribe, or other criminal acts, were able to plead constitutional privilege in declining to testify.

Tammany has fought the investigation at every step, clearly being apprehensive of the effects of a searching inquiry. It complains, but without just cause, that the investigation is partisan and it prompted
by a desire to injure the New York Democratic organization. It talks of corruption in Republican cities up-
state, and professes to favor a statewide inquiry into graft, waste and misrule. It has threatened Governor Roosevelt, through its leaders, with withdrawal of support from his candidacy for the presidential nomination. The governor, however, defies the Tammany machine and goes
on supporting the inquiry.

That should prove in the long run
a source of strength, not of weakness, to him in a political sense.
Courage and integrity still pay in politics. Tammany's hatred proved a priceless asset to Democratic candidates for the presidency on historical occasions in the past. Grover Cleveland found it so. Woodrow Wilson found it so. Franklin Roosevelt may find it so.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

ing down of Cuban broadcasts, but

squad executions, all saxophone

in the light of what has happened

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The elder J. P. Morgan was once credited as paying any man who could offer fairly convincing proof that he was worth a million dollars to a reputable firm would have no trouble collecting. From reliable sources I learn of an incident illustrating
the point.

The story concerns an advertising agency that made an extremely tempting offer to the alert advertising manager of a big New York department store. He was out of college only a few years but had shown surprising results. The store's president, hearing of the offer, sent for the young man.

He inquired: "What is your financial goal?" The reply was:
"One million dollars." Scarcely batting an eye, the president said:
"We will give it to you." In view of the unusual circumstances the advertising agency, although the contract was signed, released him.

Older and wiser heads in big business are declaring that at the moment more than in any other period of industrial history, young men face golden opportunities.
Charles M. Schwab jumped from $50,000 to $250,000 salary in one year. It was indeed a conspicuous achievement.

Yet even in the depression there were rousing reports of the deer. A chain store organization was slumping frightfully in receipts. An obscure employee in the counting department wrote a letter to the chairman of the board which interested him and fellow directors.

The young man asked no salary
to put through his idea. He sought instead one-half of one per cent of the net profits the first year and after that a salary of $100,000 annually. He made $67,000 the first year and was voluntarily given $100,000.

Those who know say business in stagnation is turning eagerly to fresh young blood. Where gray heads sat at executive desks two years ago, there are today alert youths with hair on brose. A great banker recently said: "When we ride out of this present chaos,
youth will be in the saddle."

The movies have been far "out in front" in shouldering youth with responsibility. Two of the biggest executives, Ben P. Schulberg and Irving Thalberg, are former New York office boys and still in early thirties.

I worked on a middle west newspaper where the managing editor
at 29 was the oldest executive. Reporters wore college caps and pig
top trousers and the sporting editor had to place a box on his chair
to reach the typewriter. The copy boy was Paul Dunbar, who later gained fame as a Negro poet. It would be pleasant to report amazing success but the truth is our journalistic efforts were pretty much a mess. The climax came when the opposition paper scooped us on the mysterious murder of the janitor in our own building.

Incidentally, a spin of life's wheel pocketed one of that old
staff in the entrance of a Coney Island concession where with a megaphone and a pair of leather lungs he barked to passersby of wonders within. Spotting me
among the throngs along Surf ave.,
one afternoon he boomed: "How's
this for local boy making good in the big city?"

Driving through the Bowery
these late evenings offers a depressing spectacle. Waiting for the rescue missions to open for the cup of coffee and back room flop, the derelicts huddle together like sheep
in a storm. What heightens the melancholy is the utter silence.
One may watch them for a half hour—as I did—and not a lip
moved. They seem completely stunned.

The Bowery sidewalk seems the last stand of the organ grinder
and "da monk". The grinder I saw had reached a seediness seldom achieved and his wheezy organ
struck only an occasional meanin-less note. Even the moth-eaten monkey turned lazy somersaults
with despairing hopelessness.

George Jessel, Lou Holz
and Frisco smoke especially made Graf-Zeppelin sized cigars—at least I have always believed they were cigars until I sat to the windward
of one of the trio in a cafe last evening. Even today, walking along, I find myself standing suddenly still and swaying.

The Stars Say —

Friday, Aug. 28

A day of perplexity and irregular or intriguing developments is presaged from the peculiar angle of the leading planets. Those in the employment of others may be subject to suspicion, doubt and enmity and should take means to safeguard their positions. Also there is prospect of affairs generally, and new projects particularly, being subject to subtle undermining or treachery. Straightforward methods, alertness and precaution are enjoined in all affairs.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year in which treach-ery, conspiracy and furtive attack
may be brought to bear on their affairs, with new projects and employment especially menaced by these. Alertness, precaution and abstaining from peculiar or crafty methods may save the situation. A child born on this day may be disposed to curious, mysterious and subtle things and practices gaining its ends by secret or sinister ways.

Weigh Baby Often
Whenever possible the infant
should be breast fed. But it is important to discontinue this plan of feeding if it does not serve its purpose. Sometimes babies do not thrive on mother's milk.

It may be necessary to take the baby from the
breast and give
artificial feeding.
Frequently there
is lack of milk in
the breast.

Increase in weight is the
most accurate
method of determining if baby
is getting sufficient nourishment.
If not, the infant
will lose weight. Continued loss of weight is serious and requires immediate attention.

The infant should be weighed twice a week. This procedure
should be continued until it reaches
one year of age, and then it may be weighed once very month.

After the first week no child
should ever lose weight, or remain stationary. During the first year
a healthy baby should double its weight in six months and nearly triple it in twelve months.

It is not important that the gain
in weight be rapid, but it should be gradual and steady. During the first six months there should be a weekly gain of five to six ounces. If the gain is not steady there is something wrong. This may be due either to the food or to the method
of feeding.

I believe too many mothers overlook the importance of having a scale at home. Infants should be weighed on definite days and an accurate record kept of the weight.

Where such records are kept
children receive adequate attention.
Since this is a simple method of determining the child's welfare, it should be practised by all I believe the purchase of an infant's scale
a wise and just investment.

If satisfactory progress is not observed, talk with the family doctor. There may be the need of a change in the bottle mixture.

Babies are delicate things and respond quickly both to good influences and evil ones. Steady increase in weight is a good sign.

Tomorrow—Spring-Holzwarth Offers You a Whole Herd of

WHITE ELEPHANTS

You've Heard About White Elephants Before

Once, you know, there was a spoiled Oriental Prince who cried and yelled for a White Elephant. Finally, after a great many years, his slaves found one in a far country.
They brought it home and the Prince was pleased as Punch
until the White Elephant took up too much room, ate too much, and didn't stay as white as he should have. And when the Prince tried to get rid of the beast, no one wanted him. At last the Prince had all he could do to give the animal away.

There's a moral in this. We're the Prince who cried for these things and now we're sorry as can be, 'cause some of our White Elephants are soiled and others take up too much room and we just can't seem to get rid of the beasts.
So we're giving the White Elephants away for next to nothing. At these prices there is certainly some one who can use these White Elephants.

Makes You Lose Unhealthy Fat

Mrs. Ethel Smith of Norwich, Conn., writes: "I lost 16 lbs. with my first bottle of Kruschen. Being on night duty it was hard to sleep days but now since I am taking Kruschen I sleep plenty, eat as usual and lose fat too."

To take off fat—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—Get it at Lease Drug Co. and Broadway Lease Drug store, or any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the easiest, surest and safest way to lose fat your money gladly returned.—Adv.

Flashes of Life

(By Associated Press)
ROTENBURG ON PULDA, Germany—A young heckerler at a public meeting has had a painful reminder that the "withered hand" of Philip Scheidemann is purely a figure of speech. Scheidemann opposed signing of the treaty of Versailles, exclaiming in the Reichstag, "withered be the hand that signs this treaty." The heckerler wanted to see the "withered hand." His answer was a smart box on the ear.

BUTLER, Pa.—Perhaps soft wood won't hurt so much. Anyway the school board has issued specifications for paddles to be used on the school kids. The paddles must be made of soft pine and not more than one-quarter inch thick. A regulation paddle was ordered after a teacher was haled to court for using a heavy one.

NEWARK—The case of dishpan vs. radio has been decided in favor of the dishpan. Patrick J. Caulfield was summoned to court for beating a pan under the window of his neighbor, Emil Zeell. The defendant came in armed with a petition signed by 17 other neighbors declaring Zeell's loud speaker annoyed them too. "I know what a loud radio is like," said Judge John C. Howe. "There's one near my house. Case dismissed."

NEW YORK—Facial appeal makes Joseph Blumenthal, 21, the champion life guard. He was tied with George Rowland, 20, for swimming ability, dexterity in making rescues and resuscitation. Then the boys, both college students, were lined up for the crucial test. Tand Blumenthal won, five points to four. The jury? Twelve girls.

ready to attack us, and take back Alaska.

Why not take New York, which still contains much money, or Washington, with its five billions of real gold?

Russia will attack us to make us recognize her, according to Senator Lewis, and we ought to be prepared.

We certainly ought to be prepared. We got Alaska from Russia at a bargain, such a bargain as might well make us forget the few millions that Russia owes our bankers.

But Russia is not going so far back for a pretext.

If she wants to fight us, which she does not want, being intelligently managed, she will fight and be done with it. For war you need little excuse.

Why was the last war fought?

Because an obscure fanatic killed an Austrian prince of no consequence, and then 20 millions were killed and 250 billions spent.

STOCKHOLM — The national museum of Stockholm, the Swedish government's art gallery, attracted nearly twice as many visitors last summer as in 1929, according to Dr. Axel Gauffin.

CHINA MISSION AID IS SPEAKER

Mrs. Charles Matti On Program Tonight At Damascus Session

She stated "I am here in behalf of a great cause."

The talk on all sides of repeal of the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States, just because it is hard to enforce, does not appeal to a red blooded American, Dr. Kelsey declared.

Liquor traffic has never kept a law in its history, according to Dr. Kelsey, and he is of the opinion that it would not keep any law enacted to take the place of the 18th amendment.

"Our contention is that the beverage liquor traffic shall be banished," he said.

The speaker pointed out that liquor was a foe to man, physically, socially and morally, and that prohibition can be enforced.

"Prohibition must be in the hands of its friends, and this can be brought about by putting men of character in congress. The same holds true in the state legislatures and there is need to be careful in selection of judges for the courts and in cabinet officers."

"The youth of today must understand the present situation. For this the only hope is in the home, the school and church, but particularly in the home."

"We need to repel every attack of the wets—we ought to fight if they see fit to bring a referendum—meet them before they start. In repelling the wets we have to keep our eye on Columbus."

"It washes clothes white as snow!" says her delighted sister

NOW I know why you kept telling me to change to Rinso. It's marvelous soap! I never got clothes so bright and clean from my washer before. Linens come so white, I don't even boil them! I wish I had taken your advice long ago."

For tub washing, too

The makers of 40 famous washers recommend Rinso for safety and for whiter, brighter clothes. Great for tub washing, too; soaks out dirt—saves scrubbing—saves the clothes.

Rinso suds are thick, creamy, lasting—even in hardest water. Rinso gives twice as much suds, cup for cup, as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. Try these rich suds for dishwashing, too. Get the BIG household package of Rinso.

BERLIN — The sales in German department stores during May and June, 1931, show a decline of over seven per cent from the corresponding period last year. It was during these months that the German economic crisis was foreshadowed in the form of announced cuts in wages and salaries, and sales fell off accordingly.

MINOR MISHAPS
MAR AIR DERBY

Three Planes Forced To Land; 52 Ships Still In Flight

(By Associated Press)
AMARILLO, TEX., Aug. 27.—Pilots in the national air derby, beset by a series of minor mishaps on a flight from El Paso, Tex., to Amarillo, faced another lap today with Enid and Bartlesville, Okla., as the objectives.

Three planes, all piloted by women, made landings at unspecified points yesterday. All, however, eventually reached this city. Three planes blew out tires in landing here. Fifty-two ships remained definitely in the handicap flight from Santa Monica, Calif., to Cleveland.

Ruth Stewart of St. Louis made a forced landing in a field near Roswell, N. M., the luncheon stop, because of motor trouble, but arrived here at 9 p. m.

Mrs. C. E. Shankle of Fort Sill, Okla., forced down by the breaking of a stabilizer made repairs with barbed wire and continued her flight.

Within sight of the Amarillo airport Mildred Morgan of Beverly Hills, Calif., headed her plane toward Claude, 30 miles southeast of Amarillo, and landed there. She turned here later and was with to check in.

Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Calif., consistent leader in flying time, flew the 230 miles from Roswell, N. M., to Amarillo in 7:18:32, an average of more than 75 miles per hour. She was aided by a strong tail wind.

SAETILA, Sweden—A combined savings bank building and public bath will be erected here. The bank will occupy the ground floor and the basement will be given over to the bath. The structure will be opened in the fall.

Upset MacDonald?

George L. Harrison (above), governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, is reported to have been named by the Labor movement in England as the villain in the drama which overthrew the government of Premier Ramsay MacDonald. According to a Labor organ in London, it was an "ultimatum" of the U. S. Federal Reserve Bank which brought about the fall of the Labor Regime.

FIND BODY OF MISSING BANKER

Officials Rule Accidental Death; W. L. Shaeffer Lies On Railroad Track

HAMILTON, O., Aug. 27.—William L. Shaeffer, 55, Seven Mile banker and operator of a grain elevator, believed to have been a victim of amnesia, was killed by a Pennsylvania passenger train today at Cotton run, near here.

The banker, missing from his home since Monday, was believed to have wandered onto the tracks.

Officials said the banker suffered severe head injuries two years ago in a fall at his elevator and believed the illness might have caused loss of memory.

At first police thought Shaeffer might have been robbed and slain and the body thrown onto the tracks to conceal the crime as relatives said he usually carried a large sum of money with him. The theory was discounted, however, and Coroner Edward Cook returned an unofficial verdict of accidental death.

The victim was decapitated by the locomotive. He last was reported seen at Oxford the same evening he disappeared from his home. His abandoned automobile was found yesterday, parked on the high school athletic field here.

MOVIES

Constance Bennett and Joel McCrea are co-featured in "The Common Law" which concludes its run today at the State theater. Miss Bennett is cast as a model and McCrea as the artist with whom she is in love. The sequence of the 4 Arts Ball in which over 500 players take part is realistic. Lew Cody, Marion Shilling and Hedda Hopper are prominent in the cast.

"Arizona" with Laura La Plante, John Wayne and June Clyde in the leading roles plays today at the Grand theater for the last time. A story that gives Miss La Plante a chance at real dramatic acting has as its background an Army-Navy football game then deepens into a story of intense dramatic power.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

At The State

William Haines will be seen in what is believed to be his most sophisticated role to date in "Just A Gigolo," which will head the program at the State theater beginning Friday.

The plot of "Just A Gigolo" strikes a new note of frankness for the screen, dealing with the attempt of a Beau Brummell to find out just how virtuous is the girl whom his rich uncle has selected to be his wife. If she is irreproachable Haines agrees to marry her; if she can be proven to be otherwise, the uncle agrees to let his triscent nephew choose his own bride. The ingenious methods used by the young man to prove his selected bride to be unworthy of him make for what from all reports is Haines' most uproarious picture.

Irene Purcell, C. Aubrey Smith and Charlotte Granville support Haines.

"Clearing the Range"

At The Grand

Hoot Gibson and Sally Eilers head the cast in "Clearing the Range" attraction Friday at the Grand.

Gibson is rapidly becoming one of the most popular of western stars.

"Clearing the Range" written by Jack Cunningham and prepared for the screen by John Nafford, is advanced as an example of the excellent story judgment which has helped to guide his career to its present high point.

The character portrayed by Gibson never shoots to kill. Bloody fights, exploiting the worst side of the old West, have no place in the Gibson schedule. Virile actions, vital developments at every turn in a plot, and vigorous, red-blooded romance are strong ingredients in the story-plan upon which the success of Gibson has been built.

PARIS—Marshal Henri Petain, hero of Verdun, refuses to wear his many medals and decorations in public. "I wouldn't mind wearing them on my nightshirt," he confided to a girl interviewer, "but I don't believe in parading them around by day."

THE DAY In Sports

HELEN SURPRISES FANS
WIN'S SPORTSMAN'S
PLAUDITS

CLOSE FOLLOWERS of the net game expressed surprise that Helen Willis Moody, the wife, continues to play as excellent competitive tennis as did Helen Willis, the California schoolgirl. Their astonishment has been even more marked since her recent victory over all comers in the United States championship matches at Forest Hills.

Conceding that young people frequently must choose between marriage and a career, necessitating the sacrifice of one, the popular Helen is apparently one of the exceptions quite capable of managing both. Two of the attributes essential to this diversified existence are a healthy body and brain and Helen seems to score an "A" in both departments. The third is an even temperament and here she has the professors reaching for plus marks.

It was the determined, but unruffled manner, even more than her tennis, that first attracted the attention of sportswriters and won her the title of "Little Poker Face." It was the same characteristic that carried her, as a comparative child, through the ranks of the top notches to a record of seven national championships—a record previously equaled by only three men and one woman and never broken.

QUIET AND UNASSUMING on the tennis court, it was to be expected that Helen's domestic life would be no different from that of any normal happily-married young woman. Wisely, she chose a year of retirement—a year dedicated to adjustment to domestic routine and to a certain Mr. Moody who, after all, deserves some consideration, even from a champion.

But, though obviously very much in love, Helen was not one to let heart rule head to the exclusion of a second love. So, while husband was clipping coupons, or breaking brassies on California's sun-soaked golf courses, wife was perfecting forehand drive and serve, always striving for the better game. Reunited at dinner, they could conveniently compromise on romance.

BY WINNING one more national championship, Mrs. Moody will establish a record unparalleled in tennis history. Her chances are excellent. She was youth, determination, technique and the will to better it. She has the ideal tournament temperament. And there is no one left in her field at the present time who can so much as make a serious bid for a single set.

Helen will carry a strong psychological advantage into the tournament at Forest Hills next year. Tennis fandom will be rooting. America will be rooting. And Mr. Moody will be rooting. Not only for a wife who wears that much-sought label, "Champion," but for those two weeks in which he can brush up on that brassie shot.

UNLESS SOME BRIGHT young athlete rounds into an outstanding star, the sporting public of the United States is going to rub its eyes early one morning and discover that it does not have a single phenomenal performer.

Just at the present time we are fairly well accommodated along these lines by the illustrious Mr. George Herman Ruth of home-run fame. But the boy is growing older and his star, much as we hate to realize it, is on the decline.

But look back a few years: There were Dempsey and Tunney in boxing; Ruth, of course, in baseball; Tilden in tennis; Red Grange in football, and last and possibly most important, Bobby Jones in golf.

Dempsey is now toying with the idea of a comeback. One believes he would like to take a crack at Carnera, and one wishes to goodness he would. Tunney is unrevocably through. Ruth is fading, slowly. Tilden, still a great player, does not hold the appeal he did, and besides he is a professional. Grange has been through for some time, and Bobby Jones, while not an amateur, does not seem inclined to play as a professional. Let him turn pro and maybe we will have our needed one great hero.

Of course, there have been great college footballers since Red Grange. Frank Cardozo of Notre Dame is a great example. But he did not capture the public fancy as Grange did. And neither has any other player since Grange's day. There are up-coming tennisers. Young Ellsworth Vines is a distinct promise. One believes he may win the national championship and become a greater and greater player in the succeeding years. But with all due respect for a fine sportsman and a brilliant player, it's safe to say that Vines has about one-twentieth as much "color" as Tilden did.

Gets Coaching Post

SEBRING, Aug. 27.—Kenneth Mills of Sebring, former Mount Union College star athlete, has been appointed assistant coach at East High school, Youngstown. Mills, son of former Postmaster Mills of Sebring, has been coaching at Sandusky High school since his graduation from Mount Union. He starred in football and was a member of the Ohio Conference championship basketball quintet at Mount Union.

Homers by Hornsby, Cuyler, Factors in Victories; Indians Rained Out

Homeward bound today after having completed their last triumphant tour of the Atlantic seaboard, the St. Louis Cardinals were in position to concentrate on getting themselves in prime condition for their October skirmish with the Philadelphia Athletics.

By sweeping their closing doubleheader with the Boston Braves yesterday, the Streetmen closed their eastern invasion with a record of 13 victories in 17 starts. They are returning to their own back yard with a lead of 10 full games over the field, sufficient to permit them to coast through the final month.

Two veterans of the birds' pitching staff completed the sweep of the five-game series at Boston yesterday, Jess Haines keeping ten hits scattered to win the first 6 to 1, and Burleigh Grimes taking the nightcap, 6 to 4, when his mates overcame an early Braves lead with a four-run rally in the sixth.

Cubs Win Twinnbill Thanks to some lusty hitting by Hazen Cuyler and Manager Hornsby, the Chicago Cubs were able to close their eastern jaunt with a pair of victories over the Giants, 4 to 3 and 7 to 4, the second going 12 innings. The Giants were leading 4 to 0 until the eighth inning of the nightcap, when Cuyler nicked Jim Mooney, rookie star, for a home run with two on. Hornsby's four-bagger tied it up in the ninth, and the whole outfit fell on Fred Fitzsimons for the winning runs in the twelfth.

The Phillies shoved Dan Howley's Cincinnati Reds a little deeper into the cellar with a pair of beatings, 8 to 4 and 7 to 5. They had to score four times in the ninth inning to win the nightcap, Dick Bartell's double with two out and the bases loaded supplying the climax.

Athletics End Jaunt Although they dropped the final to St. Louis, 9 to 5, the Athletics showed a nice profit for their last Western tour, winning 10 and losing only four. They were back east today with a 14½ game lead over their closest American league rivals, the Washington Senators.

The Browns jumped on Rube Walberg and George Earnshaw for six runs to give the Athletics a parting shove. Roy Johnson's home run in the eighth was the punch the Detroit Tigers needed to nose out the Senators, 5 to 4, in their last meeting of the year.

After losing ten straight to the New York Yankees at Comiskey park this year, the Chicago White Sox finally broke through to win their closing tilt 8 to 5. Boston's scheduled doubleheader at Cleveland was rained out.

CHICAGO—Although the 1933 World's Fair exhibits will show the progress in the industrial world, one of the purposes of the exposition is to teach visitors to appreciate beauty, according to Dr. Allen D. Albert, assistant to the president of the Century of Progress Exposition.

No Shortage of Action!

The annual Gold Cup race, held off Montauk, Long Island, was a classic of speed and power as usual and, as in 1930, Hotsy Totsy, piloted by Victor W. Klesrath (insert), won the speedy blue ribbon event of the racing season. The entries in the Gold Cup race, speeding by the judges' stand, while framed in flying spray are, front to back: The Californian, Miss Philadelphia, the Hotsy Totsy, the Red Banker and the Louisa. Miss Philadelphia was second and Californian placed third. Klesrath is shown holding the coveted trophy.

Once Titular Prospect, Young Filipino Turns Dish-Washer

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Quick riches . . . reckless waste of money . . . poverty the end.

Tosses Away Fortune

Tossing away a fortune of $300,000 earned with his fists in the ring, Pete Sarmiento, once a contender for the bantamweight and featherweight championships, now blind in one eye, left Wednesday for Los Angeles for a job washing dishes at $16 a week. He is flat broke, except for carfare home and $110 to buy food en route.

This Filipino youth, now 28 years old, fought his last fight in Dayton, O., Monday night. He fell a knockout victim in three rounds, with Eddie Shea, Chicago, striking the last crushing blow. At the height of his career Sarmiento was a sensational fighter.

In one year Sarmiento earned $85,000, but allowed it to slip through his fingers. He loved to dress, buying $150 suits, three or four at a time. Twenty dollar silk shirts by the dozen, with all accessories to match both in splendor and in price. Automobiles two at a time. He refused to walk four blocks. It was always a taxicab with a healthy tip for the driver, if one of his own cars was unavailable.

Loses In Dice Game

In one night in Chicago he lost $6,000 in cash, a diamond stickpin and a diamond ring over a dice table. Sarmiento loved to gamble, and he seldom won.

BIG SIX CHAMPS FACE UNCERTAIN GRID CAMPAIGN

Coach Refuses to Become Enthusiastic Over 1931 Prospects

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of a series of advance stories on the prospects of top-ranking college football teams.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Aug. 27.—Heavy losses from graduation, probable ineligibility of several stars, and the possibility that several more may not return indicate that the University of Kansas football team, 1930 Big Six conference champions, can hardly hope to repeat.

Coach Hargiss Gloomy Even Homer Woodson Hargiss, the "Bald Eagle Bill," who coached last season's winners, refused to become enthusiastic over the prospects for 1931.

"We'll have a fair team," he said, "but we have a tough schedule. Right now you can guess just as well as I can who will be on the club, and where we'll finish." Graduation took its toll. When "Jarring Jim" Bausch, all-Big Six halfback, and storm center in the professionalism row which threatened for a time to split the conference, the Captain Charles Smoot, all-Big Six center, passed along, Hargiss was left with two gaping holes in his eleven.

Look To Bausch

A successor to Smoot, known for three years as the smoothest passer in the conference, looms in "Big Pete" Bausch, brother of Jim, who is rated as the equal of Smoot, providing he can escape the groin injury which kept him on the bench all last season. But it will be harder to fill the shoes of "Jarring Jim."

In the line, the team should be reasonably strong, Gilbert Hanson, a regular end, and Arch Stuck, a last year's sophomore, who won mention as the greatest wing man in many years at Kansas, both are expected to return. There is a possibility, however, that Stuck may not be eligible.

Earl Foy and Otto Rost, last year's regular tackles, will return. Foy was an all-Big Six selection last year and Rost won mention.

Guard Prospects Dark

At guard things look bad. Tommy McCall, Lee Davis and Otis Atkinson, last year's regulars, all are ineligible, or have left school. Zvonimir Kvaternik, 200-pound yearling, looks to be the best.

Unless Bausch can play regularly at center, things will go hard at the pivot position. Rollin Fountain, 200-pound Californian, who played with the freshmen last year, seems about the only bet, should Bausch's injury return.

Carnie Smith, regular quarterback; Elmer Schaeke, star sophomore half last year, and Lee Page and Johnny Madison, two more halfbacks, will be back in school. At full back, Ormand Beach, another all-Big Six player last year.

Crowthers Takes Trapshoot Title

(By Associated Press)

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 27.—Steve M. Crowthers, Chestnut Hills, Pa., stood today as champion of amateur trapshooting champions.

The Pennsylvania amateur titlist gave a display of perfect marksmanship yesterday to defeat champions from 41 states, the Canal Zone and Alberta, Canada, in the day's feature shoot of the thirty-second annual grand American trapshooting tournament.

Crowthers broke 200 consecutive pigeons, duplicating his feat in winning the Pennsylvania crown. He succeeds E. F. Woodward of Houston, Tex., to the title. Ted Renfro, Del. Mont., was second, and Joe Heistand, Hillsboro, O., third.

Earl Donahue, Minneapolis professional, claimed the professional championship after winning a shoot-off from Rush Razee of Denver. Tying Razee at 199 out of a possible 200 targets, Donahue ran off 23 more to win after the Denver professional had missed his 23rd from a difficult angle.

Russian Countess, Noted Authoress, Proud of U. S.

Irina Skariatina, Formerly Countess of Imperial Russia, and Writer of "Best Seller," Is Tolerant with Bolsheviks

• IN RUSSIAN CARR •

IRINA SKARIATINA

NEW YORK—It is refreshing in this age of ultra-sophistication and modernism, when blasé boredom is considered the hallmark of smartness to meet a successful author who is not ashamed to confess herself thrilled to death by success. It is also strange to find such a one departing from the custom, beloved by the so-called intelligentsia, of berating America and things American, and declaring with vehement enthusiasm that she is proud of being a citizen of this "beautiful country."

Such a person is Irina Skariatina, formerly Countess "Wladimir-ovna" Keller, of Imperial Russia, author of the latest best thriller, "A World Can End."

Born to the wealth and luxury that was a feature of court life in the land of the Czar before the revolution as the daughter of Princess Mary Lobanov, direct descendant of Rurik, first prince of Russia, and General Wladimir Skariatine, this authoress had the upbringing of one born to the purple.

She was educated at home by private tutors and, after her debut at the court of Czar Nicholas, was created Maid of Honor to the Empress Alexandra. Her experience in that honorable role was to prove of great value to her in after life, the court atmosphere with its petty jealousies and intrigues being valuable material for one who starts out to build a career with the pen.

While at court she was married to Count Alexander Keller, of the Chevalier Guard Regiment, but as the union was one of those arranged affairs, common in court circles, it didn't endure and the inevitable separation came quite soon.

During the World War, Countess Keller took up nursing and was decorated for her war work. Then came the Revolution and the crash of Russian nobility. The young Countess stayed in Petrograd all through the terrible "ten days that shook the world" and for the fearful months that followed. She not only saw everything that went on in the storm center but recorded the happenings faithfully in her diary a translation of which takes up a large section of her book.

As to be expected, she was cast into prison where she would have died, had hundreds of others, but for the intervention of Dr. Frank Golder, of Leland Stanford University, and Dr. Herschel C. Walker, head of the Petrograd division of the American Relief Administration, who won her freedom and helped her to reach sanctuary in England. Dr. Golder smuggled the diary, found which her new book is built, out of the Bolshevik-ridden Russia.

Countess Keller landed in America on July 4, 1923, when the fire-cracker barrage was at its height, so her first impression of America was that of a carnival country. She has never lost that impression.

In 1926, the Russian noblewoman married Lieut. Victor F. Blakeslee, of the United States Navy. Their home is in St. David's, Pa., where they lead a simple life, the quiet environment of which has done much to erase the memory of the era of horror through which Mrs. Blakeslee lived during the Russian cataclysm.

Mrs. Blakeslee was made an American citizen in 1929—an event which she regards as the proudest moment of her eventful life. Chief of the authoress's admirable characteristics is her total lack of bitterness or hatred toward the iconoclasts who tore down all that she held sacred. Philosophically she asks, when approached on her attitude toward the Bolsheviks: "Can one be angry with a phase of history?"

"A World Can End" is the first book from the pen of the Countess who prefers to be known as Mrs. Blakeslee, American, but it is not her last. She is out to make a career of writing and who can say that she hasn't got off to a flying start?

MEMPHIS—One smile for children, two smiles for adults was the price of admission to the annual playground circus held here recently.

Simple Home Recipe For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

If you are a victim of Stomach Trouble—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this good advice.

Artificial digestants and starvation diets are seldom needed. With-in reason, most folks may eat what they like, if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion. And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a little Bisurated Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless form of Magnesia that swiftly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A few days' trial of Bisurated Magnesia (powder or tablets), which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that fully 90% of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Try Bisurated Magnesia today!—Adv.
